

MENTION THE ARTS & CRAFTS PERIOD, and most people think of bungalows and mission furniture. But the period was also a mind-set—devoted to the honesty of craftsmanship, simplicity in design and the joys of nature, hearth and home. Color palettes recreated the earthy shades found in building materials, or the blues and greens of handmade ceramic tiles. Unpainted woodwork and solid-colored, never papered walls let the simple beauty of every object in the home shine through.
